

Star Learners

Congratulations to all our Star Learners this week. We are proud of you all!

Week ending : Friday 28th March

Brahms Class

G is our star learner this week for always being ready, respectful and safe. She always tried her hardest in her learning and looks out for others.

Mozart Class

O is our star learner this week for working hard across the curriculum and showing real resilience with his rainbow challenges! Well done O!

Price Class

Our star learner this week is R for trying really hard in his English writing. He has shown positivity and resilience in his writing and been working hard in his maths, learning about the mass of different objects.

Vivaldi Class

Our star learner is E for trying so hard with her writing and has produced some excellent sentence snake this week. She is using her finger spaces and full stops each time.

Zimmer Class

P is our star learner because she is always trying hard with all learning. P could be our star learner every week! This week P has used some fantastic adjectives in her writing. Well done!

Lloyd-Webber Class

Our star this week is L for his great behaviour and engagement on our trip. He contributed great answers during discussion with our tour guide and listened carefully to everything.

Bernstein Class

Our star learner is C. She has hit the ground running and made a super start here at Beechwood. She has shown RRS behaviours in every element of her learning and has really impressed Mrs P!

Dun Class

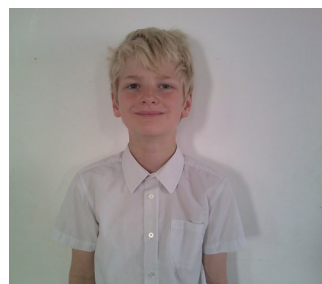

Our star learner is L for her hard working in understanding decimal numbers in maths this week. Well done L!

Holst Class

J is our star learner this week. J has shown brilliant resilience throughout English when she found a task tricky, she persevered. As a result she has planned a brilliant letter.

Elgar Class

Elgar's star learner this week is R for his mathematical thinking. Well done R!

Tchaikovsky Class

S is our star learner this week for showing dedication and determination in all lessons and being an excellent role model around the school. Well done!
