

"Stop! You can't take him!" Shouled Albert from across the road. "Albert, what are you "doing here?" questioned Albert's dad. I "Who is this? You can't be here kid," the soldier Ordered. Long long ago there was a hornble with called Glenda. She lived in Lodge Woods in Tavistock, Woodd you live to read an incredible myth about her? Lodge Woods is a miniture forest, not many people ventured there. Glenda found an old, wooden cabin some years back, now it's a witch hat, filled with digenant potions, her cat Midnight and her wooden broom collection. He you ready to hear the most fascinating legend of your lige?

Glenda was a homble homble witch, her damp, Whathy skin had a yellow colour of some sort, you could see muddust and fact scattered all over her round face. Her red glowing eyes stared into the distance, pastel yellow colours acould his cornea. Her nose was large crooked, wide, it was pointly and slightly bitted to the right. She had red curly hair that slood wright, you could see tangled churns of short hair that add below. Glenda was short, very short and shurny, it looked live she was bent in half, live the brown, dus pushing her over. She was slow, used a bornen, but stock of her made and two in the front. She had camp, uped clother, with light brown Sandels and larg trouses.
